Hydra Cycle is a water filtration company that helps recycle dirty water into grey water. Grey water is clean wasted water from baths, sinks, washing machines, and other kitchen appliances. The way we turn dirty water into grey water is using our filtration product that we install at your home. The reason there is a need for this product is because our product helps customers save money in their bill and reuse their water. In addition will help solve the problem in states that are currently in a drought.
