Dear VEInternational,

Alpacka is a company created from scratch by students at Hemet High School. Our backpacks help with back issues by stabilizing the weight of the books in your bag, leaving a weightless sensation. By using a four point mini pulley system, embedded into the straps of the bag, we have solved multiple back issues residing in teens twelve and up.

Other backpacks not using the suspension system focus the weight on the shoulders causing the spine to curve inward. This causes issues such as disintegrating spine plate, strained/infracted back muscles, or crooked spinal cords causing nerve damage. Our bags focus the weight into the pulley systems steel cords lowering the tension on the shoulders and allowing the spine to retain straight.

Regards,

Ronnie Oropeza
CEO of Alpacka
