Letterhead and Company Description

Dear Client:

Culture Crave satisfies the craving that exists in America's diet. Providing delicacies from around the globe, we add variety to the fast-food environment by shipping all the ingredients of your favorite foreign foods. This convenience is coupled with authentic quality—our ingredients are fresh and hand-picked by the best chefs any culture can offer. Not only do we provide an escape from the drudgery of everyday food, but we also give freedom from everyday experience. Through our food-vacation experience, any adventurous spirit can cure its craving for something more by actually going to those far away places and experience their culture. We allow you to taste and see another world.

Sincerely,

Meredith Baker*
