Your Name Here, Inc. is going into its second year as a promotional product company. With products ranging from pens to key chains to business cards, our customers can find something for every occasion. Though people can look at advertisements or commercials, a physical product with the company name is here to stay. With our doors reopening on November 1, 2018, we will continue to sell on trend and affordable promotional products for businesses and individuals. This will continue to help us generate sales and build brand loyalty. Our office is currently located in Fort Hamilton High School in Brooklyn, NY. Ultimately, we utilize promotional products in order to bring recognition to our customers.
