What the Departments are Working on

Currently, the departments are working hard during the month of January.

The Administration Department is finishing up the company newsletter for the month of January 2019. Along with counting inventory, the department is keeping the company email organized.

Human Resources department has been completing the past employees of the month which have been voted on by our own coworkers. They are also working on an employee database which holds all employees information as well as attendance. They have performed our employee evaluation presentation from 1st semester and are currently creating a brand new professional workshop.

The Finance Department is working on the VEI transition into the new semester! The brand new personal finance section of the class is being created by Malachi Tate. Our CFO Hailey Hendry is currently training our bank manager Breck O' Grady, for her job next year.

S&M- Sales and Marketing Department is working on our booth for our upcoming trade show. With their new intern, Quentin Roberts, they have spearheaded our soap-making fundraising for New York.

Our IT employees have been hard at work on our public image! They have been making major revisions to our company website and have started work on the company commercial.

Thank you Lone Star Meadows!

Lone Star Meadows is a local soap business ran out of Glenwood, Iowa by a couple named Mark and Debora, and have helped us out in giving us advice on how to run an efficient company. They have also aided us immensely at guiding us in our own soap making path. Thank you Mark and Debora, we would not be where we are without you!

Current Events at No Coast Soap

No Coast comes prepared! The day before school comes back, our employees were here early on a retreat for the new year! We conversed and planned future inventory, potential interns, and improvements from the past. We are always improving with our driven mindset!

With four current employees going away, our current focus for next year needs to be on our new incoming students. With 25 new potential employees, No Coast Soap is coming out of the winter better than ever!

Soap Making Day-

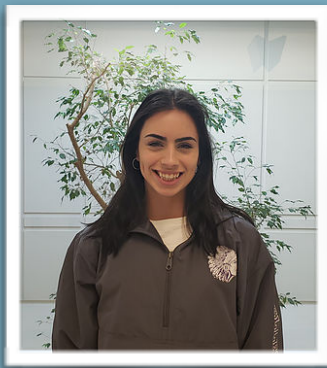

On the morning of Martin Luther King Jr. Day, the VE employees took the initiative and went on to make their inventory all day, and teamed up with Lone Star Meadows, we've made our most advanced batch of soap yet!

New Employees!

With the beginning of this new semester we have introduced two new interns who will be learning the ropes of VEI

Cameron Krishna

Cameron is the new Administration Intern. She will schedule meetings, maintain community relationships, and prepare agendas.

Quentin Roberts

Quentin is the new Marketing Intern. He assists in all Marketing-related jobs and negotiates agreements concerning company contracts.

Preparing for the Big Apple

This April, our company is preparing to travel to New York and bring our Midwest feel to the urban monopoly. This is currently our biggest motivation, as we are determined to excel at nationals.

Fundraising

Great Plains Trade Show

This February for Parent Teacher Conferences, we are introducing a brand new Great Plains trade show! As the sole firm in the Great Plains, we will use this excellent experience to showcase our company's progress and practice for New York.

The Soap Fundraising is underway! With our soap created from the MLK Stop Making Day, we have full inventory ready to be distributed! We have created out-of-sales network letters and invoices to track the selling of our soap to help us pay for our New York trip. The selling of soap will commence in February.

Employee of the Month-

Our company select two employees each month to help boost motivation in our workplace

Brody Wood

Brody was nominated for stepping up into his new job as Vice President of Administration and taking more responsibility in the firm.

Duncan Milligan

Duncan was nominated for effectively transitioning into his new position of Vice President of Sales & Marketing and being able to confidently run the large department.
