Letterhead and Company Description

Our business will provide products to automate your home. With more and more people trying to make their home smart and secure. We will offer three products that will work in conjunction with each other. We want to create this product because the market is flooded with overpriced products that do the same thing. Our main product will be called The Hub which is the brain of the system. User will then need to buy a hubby which will have the ability to turn on and off an item that plugs into the wall.
