RESPONSIBILITIES OF DEPARTMENTS

Usually, a company consist of four basic branches including Administration, Accounting, Sales/Marketing, and Human Resources; however, for our company, Administration is combined with Human Resources.

Human Resources responsibilities cover conducting company mixers, hosting guest speakers, creating themed bulletin-boards monthly, and keeping account of attendance. Employees in accounting help manage bank statements, give out payroll/income statements, and set the company budget. The Sales/Marketing department is in charge of building our image and solidifying our label virtually, working hard to create our website and conduct advertising campaigns. Also, they oversee the graphic design aspect of the company (logo, business cards, etc.).

ECO-FRIENDLY BUSINESS

Going green not only assist in bettering our environment and preventing further damage, but it also improves our quality of living. Also, adopting a more eco-friendly and sustainable business helps create a more polished public image. There are many instances where corporations' images are being tarnished by environmental organizations out of the belief that those corporations aren't doing their duty towards the environment.

What are we about?

AuNaturale caters to its customers by being an always accessible e-store and provides only natural, high-quality products for an affordable price, ranging from hair products to organic foods. Our products are sourced from organic suppliers and manufactured out of completely natural substances.

Q: How is your business involved with your community?

A: We have partnerships with non-profit, eco-friendly charities like The Conservation Fund and Eco trust and give back to smaller, regional charities in South America. The impact and the acts are more meaningful, since a far greater percentage of the funds aren't swallowed up by operating overheads and marketing budgets.
