A PEAK IN OUR PACK

Human Resources Department is currently working on prepping for the Human Resources Competition at the 2018 youth summit. In preparation for the competition, the Human Resources Department is reviewing all previous work and the Employee Manual. The reasons for these revisions is to ensure that all content is not flawed in order to score highly; so the Human Resources team is 110% prepared for the competition.

Accounts Department is working on company taxes and tax returns. Further down we will begin to discuss and implement new methods for budgeting. In addition, we will be highlighting any key areas that need improvement in order to strengthen company finances. we hope to conquer these task in the next coming weeks.

Marketing and Sales Department in our department we are currently working on preparing for the competition that shall take place in New York during the month of April. Gershonae Tait is creating a sales presentation to explain our company and what we sell to a group of individuals to generate sales. Remaining associates are completing the task within the portal.

IT Department is currently coming up with a design for the company's annual report. This includes the cover page as well as all the pages in-between. I'm working on it fitting the company's theme while also having it look creative and nice. In addition to this, I am also working on the company's booth design. Ensuring we have everything we need to make our booth stand out and look nice.

TIPS FOR STRESS FREE TRAVEL

Avoid greasy food

When your travelling for hours the last thing you want is an upset stomach. Try eating something light but filling to avoid those annoying on flight stomach aches.

Dress for comfort

Be sure to wear clothes that are comfortable to walk around in and easy to put on and take off when going through security.

Write a list of the necessities for travel. Try not to over pack.

Get some sleep

Sleep is an essential part of travel keeping you alert and energized.

STAYING GREEN IN THE WORKPLACE

Set the computer to sleep mode when your not using them.

Add a plant to your desk to reduce indoor air pollution.

Turn of off light switches when you leave the room.

Limit your use of paper by reducing printer usage.

ONLINE GARDEN CLUB

To continue to provide our sustainable environment, we created an online gardening club that consist of informing our buyers of the essential steps for cultivating a healthy garden, also, it will include recycling our products. The old toothbrushes (from customers) can be stuck in the ground upside down and use for labeling the plants. By doing this, we will be enforcing the importance of recycling.
